My Dear Friends,

November 2009

As Thanksgiving draws closer, I can't help but reflect on the goodness of God and the many ways He has met and continues to meet my needs. This past month has been one of incredible grace and provision in my life.

First, at the beginning of October He provided me with a new vehicle, a '97 Dodge Caravan. It's beautiful! I never thought I would love a minivan so much, but what's not to love? It drives and handles beautifully, the brakes work, the air conditioning and heat work and it doesn't stall-out like the old car kept doing. I never knew what a burden the car had been until it was lifted. What a sense of joy and relief!

Then, God provided an opportunity to speak to the Concord Baptist Ladies' Fellowship in Lineville, Alabama about my ministry in Peru. I was so nervous in the days leading up to that presentation - I hate speaking in front of people! Yet, God gave such grace . . . I wasn't at all nervous while I was speaking and I actually enjoyed sharing about the ministry and the different ways God has called me to serve Him in Peru. Praise the Lord!

God also gave me an opportunity to speak at the Southside Baptist Ladies' Group in Oxford, Alabama. These ladies ministered to me with prayer and encouragement throughout my time in Peru; sending emails, cards and even packages. (And you don't know how expensive it is to ship a little bitty package to Peru until you try it!) Many times, they were there with words of encouragement just when I was down and discouraged. I praise God for them!

Finally, God has provided additional monthly support from more ministry partners, bringing my total current monthly support up to 41%. Praise Him for it! I love watching that number creep steadily higher since every additional percentage point is a reminder that God is totally in control of this whole process, including support - start to finish. I rejoice with each new proof of His abundant provision and His delight in caring for His children.

Please . . .

~ Continue to pray with me for my support level to increase to 100%.

~ Continue to pray for my classes as I try to juggle study and work.

~ Join me in praising the Lord for His grace, mercy and provision!

In Christ,
