Dear Friends, Supporters and Prayer Partners,

August 2010

Sometime ago, I wrote to you concerning the Palu Blanku Church on the Island of Curacao. As you know, it had been devastated by a tornado and only walls were left with benches, etc. Much later, I shared with you how the Christians there had completely redone the church. Some of you helped and sent gifts to them. They also gave of their means and worked hard to rebuild. It now stands as a beautiful testimony to their efforts. The building is beautiful.

Now, the Sunday School Building needs to be rebuilt. At present, it is also a disaster. The church members are now in the process of rebuilding. Sunday School is basic to learning God's Word and for Christian growth. The pictures in this letter tell the story and the need. I know they will appreciate your prayer for them at this time. They are well on their way to rebuilding but have a long way to go.

The blessing in it all is that they are not waiting for someone else to provide funds or to do the work. They are doing it themselves as the Lord provides. You will note in the picture that the Sunday School Building is just behind the now finished main building. This is one of the churches we left behind in our missionary work there.

Iglesia di Palu Blanku

The Palu Blanku Church is a lighthouse reaching out to others. Since you sent us to the islands years ago, I thought you would like to know how God is blessing there and that they are carrying on.

Love in Christ,

Brom and Betty
